

Dr. Ibrahim Qassim Mohammed

Ibrahim Qassim Mohammed, chairman of the Iraqi National Committee for Stratigraphy, graduated from the Department of Geology, at the University of Sulaymaniyah in 1980, in the field of economic geology. He obtained a master's degree from the University of Baghdad in 1985, in the field of economic geology-Iraqi phosphorite, and a doctorate's degree from the University of Baghdad, in the field of clay minerals and silica in 1993. He worked in the Iraq Geological Survey, investigating the minerals sector. He participated in editing research on phosphates, clays, hot shale, and sequence stratigraphy in Iraq, the United Arab Emirates, Jordan, and the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.